Invitation for sponsorship

The Organizing Committee and the International Advisory Committee cordially invite you to the international conference on CARBON FOR ENERGY STORAGE AND ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION (CESEP2023) taking place in Budapest, Hungary from 24-28 September 2023. The conference will be jointly organized by the Faculty of Chemical Technology and Biotechnology, Budapest University of Technology and Economics (BME) and the Institute of Materials and Environmental Chemistry, Research Centre for Natural Sciences (RCNS) of the Eötvös Loránd Research Network.

As in preceding meetings, the conference aims at bringing together the scientists, engineers and technologists and intends to provide a forum for discussion on fundamental and technological scientific aspects of carbon applications related to energy storage and environment protection. This conference is expected to stimulate fruitful discussion, new ideas and collaborations between specialists from various domains. We are convinced that the scientific program and the social events will provide a good opportunity to share new results, build up or expand collaborations in the field of carbon applied for energy storage and the protection of environment. Our topics include novel carbon-based solutions for water treatment, gas storage, photovoltaic conversion, catalytic- and green chemistry, recycling processes, supercapacitors, latest generation Li-ion batteries, fuel cells. At the same time, we will present the latest developments in biological and medical applications of carbon structures.

This is the first time that CESEP is organized in Hungary and the Hungarian carbon community is honoured to host the 9th CESEP meeting. The upcoming CESEP conference is the latest in a series of the biennial conferences. Each CESEP conference focuses on current issues facing the World. It's no coincidence that our motto in 2023. is "Carbon in the changing World", which resonates well with a rapidly changing world in which energy security is under threat, making it a key priority to achieve. It is important to emphasise that almost all technologies that are sustainable and environmentally conscious are also related to the carbon structures branch of materials science.

Our event is international, with nearly 150 participants from around the world, along with renowned speakers from abroad, who will guarantee the highest professional standard. It is important to emphasize, that you will not only have the opportunity to meet and network with the conference participants, but since the Research Centre for Natural Sciences (RCNS) is located on the adjacent campuses of the Budapest University of Technology and Economics (BME) and the Eötvös Loránd University (ELTE) our sponsors can present their products, methods and latest developments to the broader communities ranging from students till professors from both universities, moreover, there is also a possibility to meet the scientific/technical staff of the host institute RCNS of about 450 people.
